

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ren Yang Joins VJ Electronix

November 2013 — VJ Electronix, Inc., the leader in rework technologies and global provider of advanced X-ray inspection systems, is pleased to announce the addition of Ren Yang as Sales Manager for China.

Ren Yang is responsible for sales and support throughout China for all VJ Electronix products and VJ Technologies industrial X-ray systems. Yang will be located in the VJ Electronix/VJ Technologies Suzhou China facility.

Yang joins VJ Electronix with extensive industry experience including sales management with MVP (Machine Vision Products), Data I/O Corporation, Rehm Thermal Systems, and Shanghai Rolin. He holds a BS in Electrical Engineering from Tatung Institute of Technology, an MS in Computer Engineering from the University of Massachusetts, and an EMBA from Peking University, Beijing.

“Ren makes a great addition to our team,” said Don Naugler, VJ Electronix Director of Global Sales. “With a background that covers equipment, materials and process, he understands the challenges our customers face every day.”

Yang will manage the China sales team with Sales and Applications Engineers and demo centers in Suzhou and Shenzhen. He also will coordinate the activities of the VJ Electronix distributors throughout China.
